Free family concert at Thayer Mansion by Generations Saxophone Quartet

On Sunday, November 8 at 3:00 PM the Generations Saxophone Quartet will present a free family recital at AUC's Community Music School, Thayer Performing Arts Center. The Quartet (Thomas Van Duyne, alto saxophone; Steve Straus, alto saxophone; Ray Hebert, tenor saxophone; Gail Ferr, baritone saxophone) will present a recital that ranges from Baroque to The Beatles and everything in between. This fun and fast-paced program will include an educational component perfect for families as the audience is introduced to soprano, alto, tenor, and baritone saxophones. TPAC Director Earl Raney says, "This is an ideal concert for families wishing to expose their children to the joy of playing a wind instrument. The Thayer Performing Arts Center is a community music school in the truest sense, offering music of all genres to musicians of all ages, right here in our own backyard. Although the concert is free, all donations received from this concert will benefit our scholarship fund for local students enrolled in our youth orchestra, fiddle ensemble, and TPAC's new junior wind ensemble. We want to make the expert instruction TPAC offers more affordable for those in need of financial support." For more information: 978-368-2100, tpac@auc.edu, or visit www.tpacma.org
